You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies. You anoint my head with oil; my cup overflows (Ps 23:5).

I have other sheep that are not of this sheep pen. I must bring them also. They too will listen to my voice, and there shall be one flock and one shepherd (John 10:16).

The LORD is my shepherd,
I shall not be in want.
He makes me lie down in green pastures,
he leads me beside quiet waters,
he restores my soul.
He guides me in paths of righteousness for his name's sake (Ps 23:1-3).

As people transition from childhood to adulthood, they develop mental independence, distancing themselves from the care and protection of their parents. This is a positive development we refer to as growth. However, Satan exploits this independence to tempt us into relying on our own strength and wisdom, living for ourselves instead of trusting in the good God, just as he did to Eve. Consequently, we no longer believe in the existence of the true shepherd and wander in darkness like lost sheep. Then, one day, you heard the voice of this shepherd and returned to him.

For you were like sheep going astray, but now you have returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls (1 Pet 2:25).

Since this shepherd isn't visibly present with you, even if you are one of his sheep, it's possible that you still live in fear, filled with worries and anxieties, as if you were still lost.

Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil, for you are with me;
your rod and your staff, they comfort me (Ps 23:4).

This psalm contains many wonderful promises for you who have the Lord as your shepherd. This shepherd, who laid down his life for you, does not slumber night or day; he watches over you and seeks to guide you.

I am the good shepherd; I know my sheep and my sheep know me--just as the Father knows me and I know the Father--and I lay down my life for the sheep (John 10:14-15).

The reality of this shepherd remains the same, but that doesn't automatically apply as a reality for you as long as you are one of his sheep. There are some important requirements for the sheep. So, what are the keys to living a fruitful life in this shepherd-sheep relationship?

Surely goodness and love will follow me
all the days of my life,
and I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever (Ps 23:6).

The Lord Is My Shepherd

Surely goodness and love will follow me
all the days of my life,
and I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever.
